

Sculpture Project

We started off with the idea of music. We thought about making a horn bell or a pan flute. Once we started thinking more and actually making the models, we decided to focus on the river and waves. In the end we incorporated community along with the idea of waves and the river.

Our First Model

- * This was our original idea. It was supposed to be abstract waves. After getting some input and seeing the area we are working with we started thinking of new ways to make it. We thought about turning it on its side and that sparked a whole new idea.
